Father's Corner:

Reflection: I was shredding some papers in the office this week. There are old papers we do not need anymore and are just taking up space in our storage room. While shredding it made me think about old things and habits we each may have that no longer serve any purpose or need. At best they just take up our time and energy and at worse they actually hinder us or stop us from moving on with our lives.

Life is always changing about the only guarantee we have in life is it will change as we go through it and that it will end here on earth. So as our life changes sometimes so do the things we do and hold on to in our lives.

One of those things that come to mind is old grudges and angers. Who are you still angry at for something that was done long ago? Who do you still hold a grudge at? These things stop us from following Christ who tells us to love one another and to forgive one another.

Another thing that comes to mind is old habits. What old habits do you still do or have that hinder you from following Jesus? At one time these habits were probably good things and you developed them for good reasons. But sometimes as life goes on instead of helping us they become hindrances and slow us down. What new habits could you work to develop that would help you to follow Jesus?

What is your habit of praying? Do you need to change or add to it? Do you have the habit of going to Confession several times a year? If not, can you try to develop it? What about coming to celebrate Mass and receive Holy Communion - weekly - a few times during the week - daily? Have you thought about it?

The 6th annual YWCA Idaho County Auction will be held September 18th at the Cottonwood Community Hall in Cottonwood, Idaho. The live auction will start at 2 PM; Lunch will be served at 12:00 PM. There will also be a silent auction from 12-3pm.

100% of the monies stay with our Idaho County YWCA administrator Kristi Beckstead who provides services to the victims of domestic violence and sexual assault. The services she provides are numerous but not limited to: temporary housing, household necessities, workbooks for the classes she teaches, transportation, gas cards, clothing, assistance with court hearings and bus tickets (if they are heading back to family away from here). She also provides counseling and job searches to get the victims back on their feet. The mission is to help these victims become confident people and know that this situation does not define them and they do not have to be victims any more.

If you would like to make a monetary donation or donate an item please contact Colleen Sonnen- chairperson 208-962-7049. We are especially looking for handcrafted items.

Silence of Critics: According to the Word of God there is a way to silence people when they criticize you for doing what God has asked you to do. Not by arguing with them. Not by defending yourself. But by keeping quiet and continuing to do the good works God has called you to do.

Jesus was highly criticized by the religious establishment of His day. But He never fought back. Instead, Acts 10:38 says He simply went about doing good. When people start riding you about living the faith life, be like Jesus and keep on blessing people. Keep on praying for folks who are oppressed by the devil and get them delivered. Keep on laying on hands on the sick and getting them healed. Keep on doing what God has called you to do.

That will aggravate the devil because his primary purpose is to make you ineffective for the Kingdom of God. He wants you to get wrapped up in criticism. He wants to distract you, to get your mind off the job God has given you. He really wants you to quit.

Don't quit! Instead, follow the instructions in 2 Timothy 3:14 and "continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of." Silence the ignorant criticisms of men by continuing to live by faith. And when all their foolish words have faded away, you'll still be standing strong. (Additional Scripture Reading: Luke 23:1-9)

ON POPULAR PIETY AND THE LITURGY

I wish to write on POPULAR PIETY and how it is important in our lives and some of its different forms. I plan on doing this by writing a larger article than the Father's Corner once or twice a month. But first some background and general knowledge that I feel is important to know. Most of this comes from the "Directory on Popular Piety and the Liturgy", published by the Congregation for Divine Worship and the Discipline of the Sacraments, in December of 2001.

The first point is "What is popular piety and how is it different from Liturgy?"

The Sacred Liturgy is the summit of the Church's life, and the liturgical celebration of the Sacred Mysteries is an act of praise to the Triune God's sovereign majesty that is willed by God Himself. The Church's understanding of her mystery, and her worshipping and saving actions, constantly affirms that "the Liturgy..., especially in the divine sacrifice of the Eucharist, [that] 'the work of our redemption is accomplished'". This affirmation, however, does not deny the importance of other forms of piety. While this is true, "the spiritual life, however, is not limited solely to participation in the Liturgy". The spiritual life of the faithful is also nourished by "the pious practices of the Christian people", especially those commended by the Apostolic See and practiced in the particular Churches by mandate of the Bishop. These "pious devotions are to be ordered so as to harmonize with the Sacred Liturgy and lead the Christian people to it, since in fact the Liturgy by its very nature is far superior to any of them". In his Apostolic Letter Vicesimus Quintus Annus, John Paul II wrote, "The pious exercises of the Christian people and other forms of devotion can be accepted and recommended provided that they do not become substitutes for the Liturgy or integrated into the Liturgical celebrations.

The history of our Church has many varied expressions of fervent faith in God, love for Christ, invocations of the Holy Spirit and devotions to Blessed Virgin Mary and the Saints. These are called "popular piety" or "popular religiosity" or "devotions". Popular piety has an innate sense of the sacred and the transcendent, manifests a genuine thirst for God and "an acute sense of God's deepest attributes: fatherhood, providence, constant and loving presence" and mercy.

The correct relationship between these two expressions of faith must be based on certain firm principles, the first of which recognizes that the Liturgy is the center of the Church's life and cannot be substituted by any other form of religious expression. Second is that popular religiosity naturally culminates in the celebration of Liturgy.
